THE ROAD TO A VACCINE

Join us for “The Road to a Vaccine”

Since the first case of the novel coronavirus emerged late last year, scientists and researchers around the world – including within Johnson & Johnson – have worked tirelessly to develop a safe and effective vaccine.

Join Johnson & Johnson and journalist Lisa Ling as we explore the scientific community’s response to the pandemic and global work being done to create a vaccine during episode one of our new live, online series “The Road to a Vaccine.” Watch via JNJ.com, Facebook, LinkedIn or Twitter on Tuesday, April 14 at 12 PM EDT.

Can’t catch it live? After the episodes air, they will be available for viewing anytime at JNJ.com/roadtoavaccine and archived for viewing across all platforms above.

8-Episode Educational Series

This new video series will examine the latest efforts to respond to the COVID-19 pandemic and break down the complex process of developing a vaccine.

We’ll talk to leading scientists and researchers, healthcare workers on the front lines, and public health experts around the world working collaboratively to bring an end to the deadly pandemic.

Hosted by Journalist and Author Lisa Ling
